EYFS

ELG: Comprehension Children at the expected level of development will: - Demonstrate understanding of what has been read to them by retelling stories and narratives using their own words and recently introduced vocabulary; - Anticipate – where appropriate – key events in stories; - Use and understand recently introduced vocabulary during discussions about stories, non-fiction, rhymes and poems and during role-play.

ELG: Word Reading Children at the expected level of development will: - Say a sound for each letter in the alphabet and at least 10 digraphs; - Read words consistent with their phonic knowledge by sound-blending; - Read aloud simple sentences and books that are consistent with their phonic knowledge, including some common exception words.

ELG: Listening, Attention and Understanding Children at the expected level of development will: - Listen attentively and respond to what they hear with relevant questions, comments and actions when being read to and during whole class discussions and small group interactions; - Make comments about what they have heard and ask questions to clarify their understanding; - Hold conversation when engaged in back-and-forth exchanges with their teacher and peers.

ELG: Speaking Children at the expected level of development will: - Participate in small group, class and one-to-one discussions, offering their own ideas, using recently introduced vocabulary; - Offer explanations for why things might happen, making use of recently introduced vocabulary from stories, non-fiction, rhymes and poems when appropriate; Express their ideas and feelings about their experiences using full sentences, including use of past, present and future tenses and making use of conjunctions, with modelling and support from their teacher.

Y1 Word reading

- apply phonic knowledge and skills as the route to decode words
- respond speedily with the correct sound to graphemes (letters or groups of letters) for all 40+ phonemes, including, where applicable, alternative sounds for graphemes
- read accurately by blending sounds in unfamiliar words containing GPCs that have been taught
- read common exception words, noting unusual correspondences between spelling and sound and where these occur in the word
- read words containing taught GPCs and –s, –es, –ing, –ed, –er and –est endings
- read other words of more than one syllable that contain taught GPCs
- read words with contractions [for example, I'm, I'll, we'll], and understand that the apostrophe represents the omitted letter(s)
- read books aloud, accurately, that are consistent with their developing phonic knowledge and that do not require them to use other strategies to work out words
- reread these books to build up their fluency and confidence in word reading

Reading Comprehension

- develop pleasure in reading, motivation to read, vocabulary and understanding by:
  - listening to and discussing a wide range of poems, stories and non-fiction at a level beyond that at which they can read independently
  - being encouraged to link what they read or hear to their own experiences
  - becoming very familiar with key stories, fairy stories and traditional tales, retelling them and considering their particular characteristics
  - recognising and joining in with predictable phrases
  - learning to appreciate rhymes and poems, and to recite some by heart
  - discussing word meanings, linking new meanings to those already known
- understand both the books they can already read accurately and fluently and those they listen to by:
  - drawing on what they already know or on background information and vocabulary provided by the teacher
  - checking that the text makes sense to them as they read, and correcting inaccurate reading
  - discussing the significance of the title and events
  - making inferences on the basis of what is being said and done
  - predicting what might happen on the basis of what has been read so far
- participate in discussion about what is read to them, taking turns and listening to what others say
- explain clearly their understanding of what is read to them

Y2 Word reading

- continue to apply phonic knowledge and skills as the route to decode words until automatic decoding has become embedded and reading is fluent
- read accurately by blending the sounds in words that contain the graphemes taught so far, especially recognising alternative sounds for graphemes
- read accurately words of two or more syllables that contain the same graphemes as above
- read words containing common suffixes
- read further common exception words, noting unusual correspondences between spelling and sound and where these occur in the word
- read most words quickly and accurately, without overt sounding and blending, when they have been frequently encountered
- read aloud books closely matched to their improving phonic knowledge, sounding out unfamiliar words accurately, automatically and without undue hesitation
- reread these books to build up their fluency and confidence in word reading

Comprehension

- develop pleasure in reading, motivation to read, vocabulary and understanding by:
  - listening to, discussing and expressing views about a wide range of contemporary and classic poetry, stories and non-fiction at a level beyond that at which they can read independently
  - discussing the sequence of events in books and how items of information are related
  - becoming increasingly familiar with and retelling a wider range of stories, fairy stories and traditional tales
  - being introduced to non-fiction books that are structured in different ways
  - recognising simple recurring literary language in stories and poetry
  - discussing and clarifying the meanings of words, linking new meanings to known vocabulary
  - discussing their favourite words and phrases
  - continuing to build up a repertoire of poems learnt by heart, appreciating these and reciting some, with appropriate intonation to make the meaning clear
- understand both the books that they can already read accurately and fluently and those that they listen to by:
  - drawing on what they already know or on background information and vocabulary provided by the teacher
  - checking that the text makes sense to them as they read, and correcting inaccurate reading
  - making inferences on the basis of what is being said and done
  - answering and asking questions
  - predicting what might happen on the basis of what has been read so far
- participate in discussion about books, poems and other works that are read to them and those that they can read for themselves, taking turns and listening to what others say
- explain and discuss their understanding of books, poems and other material, both those that they listen to and those that they read for themselves

Years 3 and 4

Word reading

- apply their growing knowledge of root words, prefixes and suffixes (etymology and morphology) as listed in - see English appendix 1 , both to read aloud and to understand the meaning of new words they meet
- read further exception words, noting the unusual correspondences between spelling and sound, and where these occur in the word

Comprehension

- develop positive attitudes to reading, and an understanding of what they read, by:
  - listening to and discussing a wide range of fiction, poetry, plays, non-fiction and reference books or textbooks
  - reading books that are structured in different ways and reading for a range of purposes
  - using dictionaries to check the meaning of words that they have read

Independently demonstrates an understanding of a range of texts; selecting essential points and using inference and deduction where appropriate.	Draw inferences such as inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and justifying inferences with evidence.	Begins to infer meaning using evidence from the text, but may need prompts to offer more in depth responses. In responding to a range of texts, shows understanding of significant ideas, themes, events and characters, beginning to use inference and deduction. Refers to text when explaining views. Distinguishes between implicit and explicit points of view independently. Without support, explains how messages, moods, feelings and attitudes are conveyed in poetry and prose; using inference and deduction and makes reference to text.
		Make inferences on the basis of what is being said and done	With support, begins to make simple inferences on the basis of what is being said and done. Generally, begins to make inferences on the basis of what is being said and done. Independently, makes inferences on the basis of what is being said and done and is beginning to use evidence from the text.	Draw inferences such as inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and justifying inferences with evidence.	With the support of a teacher, makes simple inferences using evidence in a range of texts. Generally, makes straightforward inferences and justifies views with evidence; for example, inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives. Without support, understands a range of texts; selecting essential points and using inference and deduction where appropriate.
	Connect one idea or action to another using a range of connectives. Describe events in some detail.	Discuss events	With support, understands main events or key points in a text that they can read accurately and those they listen to. With the support of a teacher, sequences a simple story and discusses the significance of the title and events. Generally, develops pleasure in reading, by discussing the sequence of events in books and how items of information are related. Retells the story from the text and illustrations. Without support, comments on events in the story using quotations or references from the text appropriately.	Recall and summarise main ideas	With the support of a teacher, the main points of a text are understood and can be recalled and summarised. Recalls and summarises the main ideas and themes across a range of texts. Recalls and summarises main ideas precisely and accurately. Independently, identifies key features, themes and characters and selects sentences, phrases and relevant information to support views.	Summarise the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, identifying key details that support the main ideas.	With the support of a teacher, locates relevant information in a text and draws out the key details to summarise the main ideas. Generally, locates relevant information in a text and draws out the key details to summarise the main ideas. Beginning to use quotes, or references to support response. Independently, locates relevant information in a text and draws out the key details to summarise the main ideas. Independently, locates information effectively and supports responses with relevant references to the text.
				Identify main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph and summarise these.	With support, begins to identify and summarise the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph. Generally able to identify and summarise the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph. Able to independently identify and summarise the main ideas or purpose of a text.
